

CAP Subcommittee Descriptions

Quality of Life

(Parks, Trails and Recreation)

Summary: One of the most important features a community offers to its residents is the amenities it provides. These amenities come in many forms, but mainly from natural assets such as the Willow River or planned attributes like community parks, trails and recreation facilities. These community assets serve the interests of everyone living in a community – youth, young families, adults, and seniors.

As a City grows, the demands for improved and new amenities and facilities increase with expectations from a growing population, regardless of age.

Providing these amenities is no small expense to a community, but this investment ensures a quality of life residents of all ages come to expect as they seek engaging activities they can enjoy year around.

Focus: This subcommittee will develop opportunities to enhance the active lifestyles of residents of all ages to enjoy.
